Vocational Preparation provides a facility setting with close, supportive supervision. Participants have the opportunity to try a variety of work experiences to promote good work habits, skills, and increased confidence. Individuals are typically referred to this service by local case management entities.

Community Employment services are for those individuals expressing hesitancy toward competitive employment or community integrated activities. This program seeks to engage participants in vocational education and exploration in the community in an effort to help them embrace their potential for competitive employment. Activities include paid transitional work experiences, career observations, job shadowing opportunities, educational tours, and benefits counseling activities.

Paid Work Training Experience (PWTE) is a program for people with mental illness that provides work and training experience for six months. The outcome of the program is employment. Participants receive on-site job coach support and supervision before independently entering the workforce. During this time, staff will address communication skills, worksite conflict, appropriate behavior, and other barriers that may hinder job retention. This program also serves female inmates from the Beaver County Jail as a work release site.

Supported Education helps participants with mental illness to pursue their educational goals. This service helps to promote career development and improve long-term work opportunities by offering career planning, academic survival skills, direct education assistance with enrollment and financial aid, and outreach opportunities.

Psychiatric Rehabilitation is a site-based program that uses a strength-based approach to assist individuals with mental illness and to increase their success and satisfaction in roles and environments of their choice. Participants choose from a variety of daily classes that focus on the living, learning, working, and socializing domains. The ultimate goal is RECOVERY.

Peer Support services are specialized therapeutic interactions conducted by self-identified current or former consumers of behavioral health services. Certified Peer Specialists are trained to offer support and assistance in helping others in their recovery and community-integration process. Services may be provided on site or in the community.

Mental Health Transformation (MHT) services provide assistance to people moving forward in recovery and who identify competitive and integrated employment goals. The staff to client ratio for this service is 1:1 due to the highly individualized nature of employment support. This program may include Benefits Counseling, as necessary.

WINServices Supported Employment services equip and empower those with psychiatric disabilities in their efforts to obtain employment and initiate life beyond illness. This is an integrated and mobile approach to support the recovery process. Services provided are within the guidelines established by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA).
